Listen, Girls: What If Men Are Rationed?

Census Reveals That Sex Roles Can Be Reversed

By ED CREAGH (For Hal Boyle)

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Well, it's official now. The women have taken over the country.

For the first time in our history, the census bureau reports, they outnumber their men folks. For every 100 women, there are only 98.1 men.

This new victory by the women in the battle of the sexes shouldn't surprise us.

For years they have outtalked us, outsmarted us, outspent us and frequently outtraged us.

It was only to be expected that one day they would outnumber us.

THEY'RE HEALTHIER. They live longer. For the most part they take better care of themselves, and they make sure we take good care of them.

Women have guided us, often dominated us. Now they can even outvote us.

It's no use being a good sport and saying "more power to them." They've got power enough already.

OH, THEY LET A man be president of the United States (so far, anyway) and for the most part they don't bother with such routine tasks as running corporations and ploughing fields.

Women are riding high today. They've made their men folks members of a minority group.

But they may have overlooked something pretty important: What if men keep on falling in the population race?

What if the 1960 census shows 100 women to every 86 men? What if there are 100 women to 68 men in 1970? And 100 women to 51 men in 1980?

YOU CAN SEE very plainly what would happen? Men would become valuable. Women would compete for them. Competition would grow fiercer as time went on. By 1990 it would become necessary to ration men. And boy, what a black market would spring up!

OUR WHOLE SOCIAL system would be turned upside down. For the first time in generations, men would really run the country. They'd whisper suggestions and their women would carry them out. Just like today, you see, but with the sex roles reversed.

THERE WOULD BE lots of problems. Children, for instance. How would they ever get born? Who would take care of them? Women wouldn't have time and men would be too lazy.

All told, such a system would be a mess. But it's what we've headed for if the present trend continues.

U. S. Casualty Toll 50,675

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Announced U. S. combat casualties in Korea reached 50,675 today.

The Defense department's weekly summary reported 7,639 killed in action, 33,401 wounded and 9,635 missing in action since the start of hostilities last June.

The wounded total included 888 who later died of wounds and 85 of those reported missing are now known to be dead, making a total of 8,612 combat deaths.

Crime Probers Vision 'Vast, Secret Underworld'

Could Rock the Nation, Senate Group Believes

Report Discloses Payoffs, Corrupt Public Officials

WASHINGTON — AP — Senate crime investigators today pictured Charles "Lucky" Luciano, deported New York vice overlord, as the czar of a vast and secret underworld government.

That secret government, they said, could easily become the basis for a subversive movement which could rock the nation.

Luciano, now in Italy, settles disputes between two of the nation's major crime syndicates, the senators declared.

In a preliminary report on its far-flung probe, the senate committee said the nation is menaced by highly organized criminals financed largely by illegal gambling.

Get Law Protection It said they operate in many places with the connivance and protection of law enforcement officials at all levels of government.

The committee estimated "conservatively" that $20,000,000,000 changes hands every year in the United States as a result of organized, illegal gambling. It added that millions of this are paid out as "ice," or protection money, in various forms.

From the thousands of pages of testimony it took from some 500 witnesses, the committee said the conclusion is inescapable that there is a second government within.

'Sweet Adeline' Composer Dies

NEW YORK, (AP) — Harry Armstrong, 72, who wrote the music for the famous song "Sweet Adeline," died today.

Richard Gerard, who wrote the lyrics, died in 1948.

The song originally was titled "Sweet Rosalie." The name was changed by the publishers in honor of Adeline Patti, the opera singer. It was written in 1903.

Other songs Armstrong wrote included "I Love My Wife, But, Oh You Kid," "Sweet Elaine," "What's The Use of Loving If You Can't Love All The Time," "Can't You See I'm Lonely," and "Baby Doll."

Soda Supplies Back to Normal

NEW YORK, (AP) — Baking soda supplies are getting back to normal generally, but some shortages still persist, large producers said today.

The shortages still reported are in scattered sections of the country, especially in the West and Southwest, they said.

Truman's Plan to Raise Postal Rates Meets Stiff Opposition

WASHINGTON, (AP) — President Truman's appeal for higher postal rates ran into stiff opposition on Capitol hill today.

Rebuffed by the last congress, the president yesterday renewed his request for legislation to wipe out "the bulk" of an anticipated $321,000,000 post office deficit in the fiscal year starting next July 1.

Truman declared many mail users were enjoying "special privileges in the form of low subsidized postal rates," and should be required to pay their own way.

Here's Final Lineup for Town Election

The final lineup appeared today for the election April 3 of a Dixon township supervisor, three assistants and a highway commissioner.

The filing deadline was midnight yesterday. Here's the list of candidates and incumbents:

For Dixon township supervisor: A. C. Higby, incumbent, and Clinton Emmert.

For assistant supervisor (three to be elected): Leon Miller, incumbent; Frank Sproul, incumbent; Mrs. Elizabeth Metzler, Harry Hobbs and Edward Stanley.

For highway commissioner: Harry LaBar, incumbent, and John O. Nelson, Robert D. Lindblom, Walter Fallstrom and Lyle Bellows.

Candidates for Mayor Comment On Primary Vote

Here are the official statements of Mayor J. Fred Hofmann and William Slothower in connection with Tuesday's primary:

MAYOR HOFMANN — "I am not discouraged over the results of the primary election. I have only myself to blame for the poor showing I made yesterday.

"In the next seven weeks I plan to present to the people of Dixon the major accomplishments and forward strides Dixon has taken in the past four years as well as the splendid financial condition of the city.

"In this manner I hope to be able to get the full voting strength of approximately 5,000 people to the polls April 17 and successfully win the honor of serving as mayor of Dixon for a second time."

SLOTHOWER — "I appreciate very much the confidence the people have displayed in giving me such a very excellent vote. Should I be elected your mayor I will do everything in my power to work for the best interests of the city in which my all is invested and for the city that I love."

Terms It Excessive Rep. Hagen (R-Minn) told newsmen he will oppose postal increases "all the way through."

And he termed the president's proposal to double existing rates on newspapers and magazines "excessive and way out of proportion."

Rep. Jenison (R-Ill), like Hagen a newspaper publisher, said newspapers did not oppose "reasonable" increases on second class mailing charges.

The Coe college concert band will play at the Loveland community building March 15 under the sponsorship of the Dixon Rotary club.

The Coe band is the only musical group west of the Allegheny mountains to play at four national presidential inaugurations. The band represented Iowa at the Hoover inaugural, the 1933 and 1937 Roosevelt inaugurals and at Truman's induction into office in 1949.

Dr. Stanley Vesely directs the Coe band. He was awarded an honorary doctor of music degree for his work by the Chicago conservatory of music in May, 1950. Included in the 1951 Coe band are 45 members of the college air force ROTC.

Actor Improves

SANTA MONICA, Calif. — (AP) — Actor Warner Baxter, 57, is recuperating at home today from a chronic illness.

He was released from the hospital yesterday after three weeks treatment. His doctor said Baxter is much improved.

King's Aide Dead WOODBRIDGE, Suffolk, England — (AP) — Sir Ralph Enderbury Harwood, former financial secretary to the king and governor of the London School of Economics, died early today at his home near here after a brief illness. He was 67.

Fate of Pires, Bracken Rests With 38 Men

Thirty-eight Lee county precinct committeemen will convene Monday, March 5, at 2 p. m., in the Lee courtroom to pick delegates for a circuit court convention in Freeport March 26.

Under Chairman Henry C. Warner, the precinct committeemen, acting as the GOP central county committee, will try to determine whether the delegates will go to Freeport pledged to Robert L. Bracken, Morey C. Pires or to no one.

Open to Public The session Monday will be open to the public.

Bracken and Pires are aiming for a circuit court judgeship which will be filled at a judicial election June 4. One of the incumbents, Circuit Judge George C. Dixon, has indicated he will retire June 4.

The other two judges of the 15th judicial circuit, Leon A. Zick, Oregon, and Harry E. Wheat, Freeport, are seeking re-election.

Representatives from Lee, Ogle, Jo Daviess, Stephenson and Carroll counties ultimately will select Judge Dixon's successor, assuming the five counties run true to form and the vote shows a Republican majority.

At the GOP Freeport convention, Lee county will have 17 votes, Carroll, 9; Jo Daviess, 10; Ogle, 17, and Stephenson, 17. They have one vote for each 500 Republican ballots cast in the 1948 gubernatorial election. Consequently, the ultimate GOP circuit judge candidate will need 36 votes to win the nomination.

Mayor Wetzell Wins in Sterling Primary; Police Plan Approved

STERLING — Incumbent mayor-ality candidate, W. B. Wetzell, overwhelmed his opponent, Floyd D. Higby by a 566 to 363 vote in primary balloting here yesterday.

The total vote in Sterling was 964 in the six precincts. Only six commissioner candidates were on the ballot. However, two write-ins will share the ticket in the April election.

Dan L. Metzger, incumbent commissioner, did not file to run again, but he received 48 write-in votes and will be placed on the spring ballot. Elmer T. Janssen received 14 write-ins and would have occupied the eighth place but said today he did not choose to run.

Probable eighth placer will be William Finn who received 11 write-ins. Raymond Haldeman led the race for commissioner with 752 votes. William F. Titney was second with 734 ballots.

Otto M. Heida ran third with 566 and George F. Engel was fourth with 520. All but Heida are incumbents.

Harry A. Diehl Jr., a newcomer, polled 284 but trailed J. R. McCormick who had 465. Other write-ins were Connie Nicol with 9 and Lloyd McCue with 6.

The proposition to put the Sterling police and fire department under a quasi civil service type organization was approved 806 to 127.

Vaile Leads Field For Commissioner; Two Eliminated

Former Mayor William (Bill) Slothower launched his political comeback Tuesday by topping Mayor J. Fred Hofmann in Dixon's primary election, 1,666 to 907.

Slothower served as mayor from 1935 to 1947 and as commissioner from 1919 to 1927.

Hofmann carried only his own precinct, the 6th and that by a scant 16 votes.

In all the rest he trailed Slothower by two-and-three to one. Slothower piled up a three-to-one majority in his own bailiwick, the 4th.

In a primary four years ago, 1947, their positions were reversed. Hofmann led Slothower by 564 votes in the primary and went on to win the April election by a vote of 2,526 to 1,563.

Still a Fight According to past performances, the candidates for mayor will now fight for the ballots of approximately 1,500 voters who did not appear at the polls yesterday.

Slothower's edge was expected in some quarters, unexpected in others. Street corner and city hall observers were right this time, for almost all were predicting a comfortable margin for Slothower in the opening round of the second Hofmann-Slothower political tiff.

Two Eliminated In the scramble for the eight nominations for city commissioner, two, inevitably, fell by the wayside. The two who ran last were Horace Hartman, 432, and Harold J. Wickler, touted as a strong labor candidate, 438.

Joseph Vaile, currently commissioner of streets but a perennial and invariably successful candidate, led the Dixon vote-getting parade with 1,723.

Carl Plowman, now commissioner of finance, finished a strong second with 1,541. It was Plowman's first whirl at campaigning; his current office was by an appointment to fill the unexpired term of the late George A. Campbell.

George Lindquist, incumbent commissioner of public property, was right behind Plowman with 1,516.

Can You or Can You Not Give, Or Receive, Salary Increase?

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A boss now can raise the pay of his employees—generally—10 per cent above their pay on Jan. 15, 1950. Officials here have estimated only 3,000,000 workers have had wage increases of 10 per cent or more since January, 1950. So another 40,000,000 or so can get 10 per cent more than they were making on Jan. 15, 1950—if the boss wants to give it to them. What last night's ruling means is across-the-board or general increases in a plant or unit or industry. For example: Jones has 100 machinists working in his plant. Last June he raised them 8 per cent over what they were getting Jan. 15, 1950. They've had no raise since. Just 2 Per Cent Now if Jones wants to give them a further raise all he can give is another 2 per cent over what they were making Jan. 15, 1950, making a total increase of 10 per cent since that date. This ruling was announced last night by Eric Johnston, boss of the Economic Stabilization agency, which means boss of wages and prices. He said it has the effect of law, as of last night. So any boss who wants to give the 10 per cent increase explained here can do so without asking permission of the Wage Stabilization Board, which is part of Johnston's setup. Until last night no general increase of any amount could be given.

But the pay a man was getting Jan. 15, 1950, does not mean necessarily the total money in his pay check for the week ending Jan. 15, 1950.

Don't Figure Overtime That paycheck may have contained overtime pay and overtime would not be considered part of the regular pay. Nor would an employer's contributions to a pension, welfare or insurance fund be considered regular pay on Jan. 15, 1950.

But can a boss who gives his employees this general 10 per cent increase, also give some of those same employees an additional increase in the form of a merit raise?

The best single answer is: You'd better ask the Wage Stabilization Board.

If you don't, you may discover later that you've violated the law without realizing it. This will try this explain why:

On Feb. 2, 1951, the WSB, in loosening up on the wage freeze, said it was all right for a boss to grant merit raises.

But—the boss couldn't just start handing out merit raises all over the place. The WSB laid down a list of rules under which such merit raises could be given.

Ask WSB for Rules And if you, an employer, didn't fit those rules, you couldn't start tossing out merit raises.

These rules laid down by WSB were a yardstick too complicated to be explained here. And if you try to interpret that yardstick, without expert advice such as WSB can best give, you may be wrong and violate the law.

For example: If you hadn't in the past given out merit raises

One Upset as Chicago Votes For Aldermen

CHICAGO, (AP)—Only about one-third of Chicago's 2,043,000 registered voters voted in yesterday's aldermanic election in which Democrats retained control of the city council.

The light vote was attributed to the lack of a mayoral contest. It was cancelled as both major party candidates for mayor, clerk and treasurer were unopposed. Thirteen of the 50 aldermen were unopposed for reelection for four-year terms.

Five of the 37 aldermanic contests ended with runoffs necessary in the April 3 municipal election, to be held in conjunction with the mayoral ballot. A candidate must gain a majority of all votes cast to win a city council seat.

Thirty-one Democrats, 13 Republicans and one independent alderman were elected in the nominally non-partisan ballot. Candidates are backed by regular ward party organizations. The present council makeup is 33 Democrats and 17 Republicans.

The biggest upset in the aldermanic race was the victory of a write-in candidate, the first in the history of city council elections. David Muir, a Republican, defeated Francis J. Hogan, a Democrat serving his second term as Sixth ward alderman.

Mayor Martin H. Kennelly, a Democrat serving his first four-year term, will oppose Republican Robert L. Hunter in the mayor race on April 3.

Winter Takes Fling; Zero Is Reported

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Winter took another fling over northern and central states today. Snow, whipped by strong winds, hit much of the northern Rockies and northern plains. Local blizzard conditions were forecast for western and northern Minnesota today and tonight. Temperatures were near zero in some parts of the storm belt.

Snow flurries continued in the extreme northern and eastern Great Lakes region and in the northeastern states. The New England region also got a fresh mass of cold air.

A storm centering in western Kansas caused showers and thunder storms over Oklahoma and Arkansas northward into Iowa and eastern Nebraska.

Fairly mild weather was reported from the southern plains to the South Atlantic states. It was fair and cool in the Far West with some showers. Snow fell in the Southern California foothills yesterday and measured three inches at Beaumont, between Los Angeles and Palm Springs. The mercury dropped to 41 at Los Angeles early today.

Men Top Women In Cancer Deaths

CLEVELAND, (AP) — The American Cancer society reported today that for the first time since statistics on death causes were started more men are dying from cancer in the United States than women.

Dr. Charles S. Cameron of New York, ACS medical and scientific director, said in a statement that the disease killed 102,671 men in 1949, compared with 101,980 women. The 1949 figures are the most recent available.

The Eighth Cow Just Objected

PEORIA, (AP)—The machine age has given Vernon Wolland a discontented cow—and landed Wolland in the hospital.

Last night, for the first time, Wolland attempted to milk his herd of eight with machine instead of by hand. Seven of the bosses didn't notice the difference.

The eighth, which Wolland says has a curdled disposition by nature, got one feel of the cold metal and balked. Instead of giving Grade A, she gave Wolland a kick. Wolland is in Peoria Methodist hospital with a fractured leg.

Girl 17, Leaps To Death in Times Square

NEW YORK, (AP)—A 17-year-old girl plunged 11 stories to her death in Times Square from a hotel window at 6 a. m. today after writing in a note that she would "never be happy."

Police identified her from papers found in her room in the Claridge hotel as Irene Mikulik of Hillsdale, N. J.

A note found read: "Dear God: I'm sorry to hurt so many people. I know I'll never be happy."

Offer Jackpot Prizes for Uranium Ore

WASHINGTON, (AP)—To pep up domestic prospecting for uranium, the precious A-bomb material, the Atomic Energy Commission today offered new jackpot prizes as high as $35,000 for uranium hunters.

Applying such pay-offs even to very low grade ores, the AEC said the new bonus offer will not take the place of its long-standing—and still uncollected—prize of $10,000 for prospectors who deliver 40,000 pounds of very high-grade ore from a newly-discovered deposit.

The commission said it would continue to pay for acceptable uranium ore at so much a pound wherever it is found and that the jackpot "bonuses" would be paid over and above the regular payments.

Thus, a commission spokesman said, it would be possible for a prospector to sell 10,000 pounds of a certain grade of uranium for $35,000—and then collect a bonus of $35,000 on top of that.

Bonus payments per pound of uranium oxide in acceptable ores will range from $1.50 for those ores assaying 0.10 per cent uranium oxide to $3.50 for ores assaying 0.20 per cent or more.

These bonuses stand until March 1, 1954.

Tea at Five

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—Mrs. Anna Sosnovsky complained that her husband awakens her with a singing teakettle because she won't get out of bed to fix breakfast at 5 a. m.

She said Charles Sosnovsky is 69 and retired and has no earthly reason for eating that early.

She was granted a divorce.

Jury Recommends Reckless Homicide In Traffic Deaths

PEORIA, (AP)—A Peoria county coroner's jury recommended yesterday that Fred C. Heiden of Peoria be charged with reckless homicide in the deaths of Dr. and Mrs. Sidney A. Smith of Chillicothe.

Mrs. Adah Smith died Feb. 15, an hour after a collision between the Smith and Heiden machines. Smith died Feb. 23 in a Peoria hospital. Heiden still is hospitalized with a fractured leg.

Some American Sex Taboos OK By Other Standards, Say Profs

NEW YORK, (AP)—Two Yale university professors report that almost all sex practices branded wrong by Americans are considered normal by one or more human societies today.

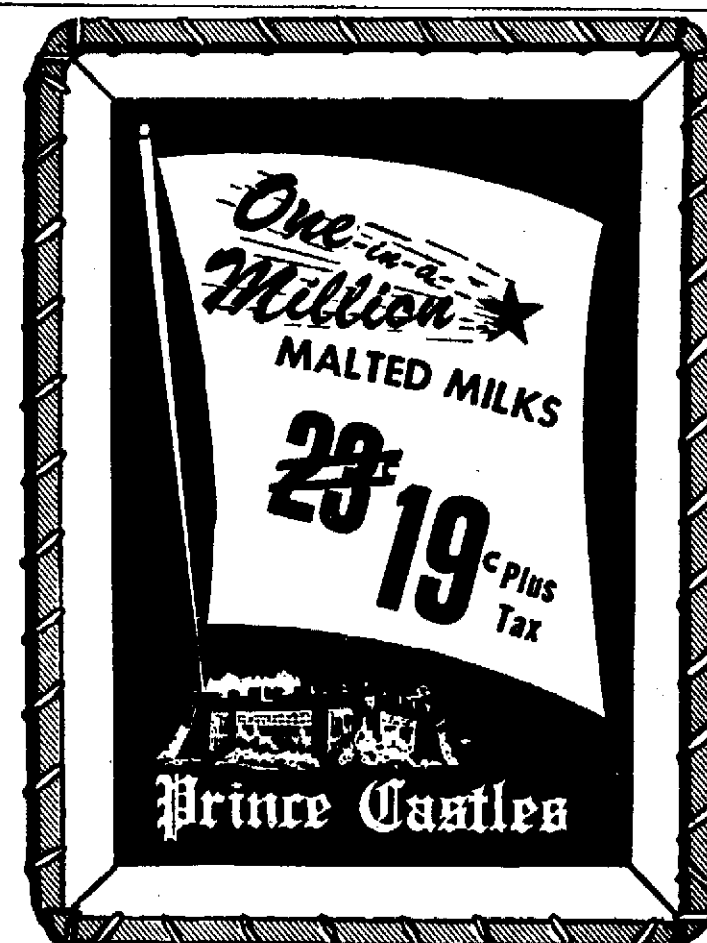

These practices, the professors say, include bigamy whether by husband or wife, homosexuality, sex play by children, and female initiative in sex.

The two professors, Dr. Cillian S. Ford, associate professor of anthropology and Dr. Frank A. Beach, professor of psychology, have included their findings in a new book, "Patterns of Sexual Behavior," published by Harper and Brothers.

Sex relations between parent and child or between other close relatives is the only universal taboo, the authors report.

"Few if any universal standards" exist for sex appeal, the professors said. In some societies, the plump woman rather than the slim one is more attractive. In others, the shape and color of the eyes, or the shape of the ears, is significant.

Can't Write Off Moral Wrong in 'Fix' Scandal

In trying to appraise the recent basketball scandals in New York, many sports writers, editorialists and others have troubled to point out that much of the blame must be borne by educators and parents who were not careful enough about the moral atmosphere in which college youngsters develop.

But in most cases this was not an effort to absolve the bribe-taking youths from their own blame in the situation.

At the College of the City of New York, where three lads took bribes to throw games or modify game scores, the student body appears to have been grossly misled in its understanding of the moral issues involved.

These students, through their campus newspaper and by other means, have suggested that the accused athletes be wholly forgiven and reinstated to their former college position. The attitude seems to be that the gamblers are at fault, but not the boys who listened to them. The students may have been influenced by newspapers which stressed that some of the players are "underprivileged" and sought to scatter responsibility over half a dozen places without fixing any on the boys.

Obviously this kind of thinking leaves out a major point. You can create conditions which have an unhealthy moral tinge and will consequently put great pressure on the corruptible youngster. But in the final test, the boy had to be corruptible to succumb to the temptations.

College boys have been playing football for many decades and no breath of scandal has touched them. They were privileged and underprivileged, playing before big crowds and small. Even in professional baseball, where one would expect more gambling and fixing, only one real scandal—the Chicago Black Sox affair—has ever marred the record.

Similarly, college lads the country over have been playing basketball for long years without any smudge on their honesty. And that goes, too, for boys in the schools around New York City.

The plain truth is only a handful took bribes. So these individuals cannot be freed of some blame for their acts. At root, the scandal was their fault.

The offenders deserve sympathy and compassion from all of us. But they do not deserve to be treated as if they had done nothing wrong. That is the great weakness in the forgiving attitude of the C. C. N. Y. students.

As one writer observed, presumably many students are suspended from C. C. N. Y. every year for a variety of mistakes. Most of these are considerably less serious than accepting bribes. But has the C. C. N. Y. paper proposed that all these students likewise be forgiven and reinstated?

There is no reason in the world why corrupt athletes should get special treatment which is denied to less serious offenders.

To pretend these bribe-takers have done nothing bad would be a grave injustice to them and would serve only to weaken further the moral structure of American society. Every effort must be made to make these lads stronger in character, for their own future welfare. But they must pay the penalty for their mistakes.

Method in Their Madness

If the Chinese Reds begin to make a noise that sounds like a genuine peace offer, we need not glibly assume it's because they suddenly have developed charitable tendencies. They're about as kindly as a crocodile on a starvation diet.

Probably much closer to the point is the fact that the Chinese have been taking a drubbing lately in Korea, especially in the air. Gen. Lawton Collins, chief of staff of the army, made this clear recently to the tough-minded senators on the senate preparedness committee.

Collins told the senators that field officers believe the Reds may have shot their bolt in Korea for quite a while and are currently unable to mount a major drive. He added that Red losses have been severe enough to hurt morale.

Said the general:

"They've taken a terrific battering. They've been cut up like they've never been cut up before, and it's keeping up every day."

Not the soft talk of conciliation but the rough talk of bombs and guns may persuade the Chinese that enough is enough.

'Good' Postures Goes Into a Slump

Once in a long while some really comforting news comes along. Dr. Paul Williams of Dallas is the source this time.

What he says is that if you want to avoid a pain in your back, assume a slight slump when you sit down and walk bent somewhat forward.

He declares:

"We've all been harped at to throw our shoulders back, throw out our chests and sit perfectly straight in chairs. Actually these postural habits have been devastating because they disregard anatomical facts."

We won't go into the details as to why it's better to avoid the ramrod posture. It's enough to hear that it is better.

Is there anything more warming to the spirit than learning that what you always thought was a bad habit is really a very sensible thing? We nominate Dr. Williams as author of the Best Prescription of 1951.

Dear Lyle:

Thanks for your birthday greeting and all the "home town news." I'm sorry I haven't answered your letters before about the "Homecoming" expenses, because I know you want to close the books. As a matter of fact, close them, there will be no bills of any kind. Actually, the only out of pocket expense incurred was rail fare for mother and me and "Universal Pictures," took care of that. They were so happy about the wonderful cooperation you all gave and the kickoff given "Louisa" that they tore up the bill for rail fare and would have done the same had there been any other items.

Please don't think I'm grandstanding, but there would have been no "bill" for you to settle anyway. I know you had offered to pay our rail fare if we would come back, but we couldn't have accepted anything because we both are so grateful for the honor you did us in having such a wonderful homecoming for us. I should pay you for the most memorable event in our lives, except that no amount of money could possibly express our deep appreciation and love for all of you.

You paid us in the only currency that is non-taxable, friendship, and hospitality.

VOICE of the PEOPLE
Dixon Evening Telegraph
Dixon, Illinois
Dear Sir:

The false statements and inferences printed in your newspaper relative to the appointment of Henry C. Warner, Warren H. Badger and George F. Nichols as Assistant State's Attorneys create an unfair impression so far as these gentlemen and the Board of Supervisors of Lee County are concerned. It has been the custom in Lee County for the Board of Supervisors to approve the appointment of an Assistant State's Attorney. It is advisable to have an Assistant State's Attorney so that in the event of the illness or absence of the State's Attorney, the Assistant is authorized to act. After Morey C. Pires was elected, the Board of Supervisors authorized the appointment of Warren H. Badger, a former associate of Mr. Pires, as Assistant State's Attorney, but specifically provided that no compensation should be paid to the Assistant, (Supervisors' Record "S", page 411), and Fremont Kaufman was appointed Second Assistant.

When Mr. Warren H. Badger went into the U. S. Service, Mr. George F. Nichols was appointed as Assistant State's Attorney under the same conditions without compensation. (See Supervisors' Record "T", page 196). Later when Mr. Nichols went into the U. S. Service, Mr. Henry C. Warner was appointed likewise without compensation. (See Supervisors' Record "T", page 321).

Mr. Nichols returned from the U. S. Naval Service and on June 10, 1946, he was likewise appointed by resolution of the Board to act as Assistant State's Attorney, and Mr. Warner resigned. (See Supervisors' Record "U", page 433). That resolution of the Board authorized the employment of Mr. Nichols as Assistant State's Attorney as a compensation of not more than $10.00 per day, and with a limit of $200.00 per year, and since that resolution was passed in 1946 only about $200.00 in all has been paid to Mr. Nichols as his only compensation for that service. When Edward Jones was State's Attorney his brother, Gerald Jones, was his Assistant likewise without compensation. The Lee County Board of Supervisors pays for services rendered and materials furnished, but only for actual value received.

You infer that the Circuit Judge should be a shrewd jury trial lawyer. If recollection serves me correctly, the present Circuit Judge did not actively participate in many jury trials. It seems to me that the only question involved is whether The Dixon Evening Telegraph is to select the candidate for Circuit Judge or the selection is to be left to the duly constituted Republican County Central Committee consisting of 39 able men who are elected by law for that purpose.

Very truly yours,
L. D. HEMENWAY

Jacoby on Canasta Eye Score When Melding

By OSWALD JACOBY

"How much should I meld when I pick up a fair-sized discard pile?" asks a Milwaukee correspondent. "Should I meld only what is necessary to take the pile, or should I meld as much as possible of the pile itself?"

It's a good question, but a complete answer could easily fill a book. Perhaps we can dig out a few general principles.

To begin with, never put down on the table more than you need to pick up the pile. You can always meld additional cards when you get the pile in your hand, but you can't take cards back.

Now suppose that you've picked the pile up and that it's still your turn to play. How many more cards—if any—should you meld?

At the very beginning of the hand, there is no need to meld anything else. Your melds will be just as good a few minutes later. Nobody will give you a medal for putting your meld down before anybody else can.

Later in a hand, when both sides have melded, you must be guided by the state of the score, by the likelihood that you can keep control of the discard pile from then on, and by the likelihood that one of the opponents will meld out soon.

In general, you tend to meld liberally if an opponent is likely to meld out very quickly. You tend to keep melds in your hand instead of putting them down if it seems likely that you can keep control.

What should you do if you think that you can keep control but that one of the opponents may meld out quickly? Use your judgment. Balance one probability against the other and act accordingly to what seems more likely to happen. You should probably

Westbrook Pegler

In Returning to Discussion of the Buchanan Committee, Pegler Thinks There Was Misuse of Government Franking Privileges

To get back to the phoney investigation of "lobbying" by the Buchanan committee of the house, I would remind you that these people laid stress on the fact that some right-wing groups made use of congressional franking to circulate their material.

However, one outfit operated by Isidore Lipschutz, of New York, did the same thing, and nothing was said about this misuse of the frank, if it is a misuse. I think it is.

If I want to make propaganda I ought to get my printing done on private facilities at the going rate in private enterprise. The government printing office reprints congressional material at very low rates. Then, if you know your way around, you can get the folding room to put the stuff into franked envelopes and mail them for you. If it is bad for Republicans to do this, it is just as bad for Lipschutz to do the same.

I have set forth good reasons why this committee of congress should have given Lipschutz the same wigging that it gave to Edward Rumely and Joseph Kamp, two zealous anti-Communist propagandists. He runs a pack of professional sneaks to pry into the private affairs of law-abiding Americans under a transparent pretense of exposing Fascists, but the main support of one of his nasty outfits, the Non-Sectarian Anti-Nazi league, is to kick up scares of anti-Semitism and then run around yelling for money to put down the menace. He has a stiff in charge of this nasty layout named James H. Sheldon, who would be an interesting witness, too.

At one stage of the hearings last summer, which finally got Rumely and Kamp indicted and may yet land them in prison, Congressman Henderson Lanham, of Georgia, said: "One of these letters is a direct attack on the integrity of the committee."

That assassinates me! I have done everything I can think of to make the committee take notice of the evidence that some secret force used it for ulterior purposes. I have insulted the committee. I walked into Buchanan's office and told him he had been indicted three times on charges of operating petty swindles. I made a liar out of him to his teeth when he said these documents were not indictments but warrants, and said further that he was "cleared." He is a liar on both counts.

The committee never had any integrity. They made fools of themselves. They don't want to hear the evidence concerning Lipschutz and his two propaganda layouts, the other one being his Society for the Prevention of World War Three.

They don't want to hear anything about Arthur Goldsmith, who has been running a high-pressure propaganda grind under half a dozen titles from his apartment in the Waldorf Tower, disguised under the meaningless address of "100 East 50th street." Or about a lot of similar, undercover operators whose money and connections are used to direct our foreign policy for their own purposes and to knock off senators from the smaller states by hosing money into their elections from secret headquarters in the east.

In a "general interim report," the Buchanan layout observed with a straight face that "different groups draw support from common sources" and "frequently share common personnel as well."

Hell's bells, a run-down of the joiners in the Lipschutz and Goldsmith outfits, about 20 letter-heads in all, would show that these concerns have dozens of names in common. I doubt that there are more than a hundred stiffies in the whole bunch of "societies." Some are just chronic joiners, out for a little pretentious publicity. Some are Reds or fellow-travelers. And most of them are phony. But the Buchanan committee wanted no part of them. It was organized to "get" the pro-American opponents of this mob, but it did that dirty job so stupidly that now

The Doctor Answers

Rheumatic Fever Likely Cause of Heart Disease

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

One of the great scourges of children, and one of the most important causes of heart disease, is rheumatic fever. It is too soon to say that the conquest of this disease is just around the corner, but there certainly have been some encouraging developments in the last few years.

The first of these lies in the direction of prevention. Although the exact cause of rheumatic fever remains elusive, a large number of attacks start after an infection—often of the throat—with a kind of germ called the streptococcus. It has been suspected for a long time, therefore, that if these streptococcal infections could be stopped in their tracks, it might be possible to eliminate or at least reduce the number and severity of the attacks of rheumatic fever.

With the discovery of the sulfa drugs and the antibiotics, including penicillin, we have received powerful new weapons against the streptococcus. Many of these drugs have been tried in various combinations and doses in places where both streptococcal infections and rheumatic fever were particularly bad. The results are encouraging.

But there are many unsettled questions, too. For example, it hardly seems likely that it would be wise to give all children such powerful drugs just on the chance that they might get a dangerous germ infection and rheumatic fever sometime.

Nevertheless for the youngster who has had one attack of rheumatic fever, and perhaps for a few others, these new discoveries offer hope of cutting down on rheumatic fever and thus on the risk of developing the worst complication—heart disease.

The other hopeful development lies in the discovery of and work now being done on cortisone (compound E) and ACTH, both of which have been discussed in this column and many other places. What we know now is only that these substances if given to a person suffering from an attack of rheumatic fever usually bring a rather quick and remarkable improvement in most of the symptoms such as joint swelling, pain, and fever.

It is not known yet, however, whether they will prevent the development of heart disease, because this can be found out only after a long time of observation.

Of course there are also many things to find out about how much to give, when is the best time to give it, about possible undesirable side effects and other things. But even what is known now gives hope that both prevention and treatment of rheumatic fever are not as far away as was feared only a few years ago.

Dr. Jordan will answer questions from his readers in a special column once a week Watch for it.

Lincoln School's First Graders Plan May for "Holiday Parade"

Lincoln Avenue will be the setting for the distribution of May Baskets when the Lincoln School's annual show is presented at 6:30 and 8 p. m. Friday, March 9, in the school gym. The first graders will take over the holidays in May in this scene of "Holiday Parade."

And where is Lincoln Avenue? It's going to be created right on the stage of the gymnasium. incumbent and commissioner of public health and safety, finished with only a slight edge on the closest challenger, Lyle C. Ballard. Shawger polled 1,081 primary votes while 957 were counted at the official canvass for Ballard. On the surface, it would appear that Vaile and Lindquist will be heavy favorites to repeat their 1947 victories, that Plowman will win his first election, and that Shawger and Ballard are almost even money for the fourth spot on the council.

Second Woman

Mrs. Maude E. Badie, the second woman to run for the council, finished a surprising seventh, topping Glen Laidig, Hartman and Wickler.

(The only other woman candidate for commissioner was Mrs. Florence White, a Dixon high school teacher, nominated in 1935. She was not elected at the general election, however. As near as anyone can determine, Mrs. White is now in Texas.)

Kenneth Rubey finished a notch above Mrs. Badie, having 648 to her 486.

Yesterday's primary vote was approximately 1,000 ballots short of the nominating election four years ago. The official vote yesterday was 2,717; in 1947, it was 3,730.

Four years ago, however, there were four candidates for mayor—Hofmann, Slothower, Walter Knack and Fred Gibson.

Here's the total vote yesterday by precincts:

1. 517.
2. 510.
3. 433.
4. 414.
5. 287.

Resident of Sublette Ends Life Tuesday

SUBLETTE—The body of Mrs. Josephine Full, 60, a widow, was found hanging in a machine shed at her son's home six miles south of here at 5 p.m. Tuesday.

An inquest jury meeting in Amboy this morning termed the death "suicide." Death was due to asphyxiation due to hanging, the jury decided.

Mrs. Full died about 4:15 p.m. Coroner Robert Preston said. Mrs. Full told her son's wife she was going for a walk, Preston added. The son, Ralph Full, found the body when he went to the shed to do some chores. According to Preston Mrs. Full left a note stating she was in poor health and indicated suicide.

The inquest was held at 8 a.m. at the Mihm funeral home, Amboy. The body was taken to the Schwarz funeral home, Mendota, where arrangements are being completed.

She is survived by the son, Ralph; a daughter, Mrs. Melvin Daum, Amboy; her mother, Mrs. Mary Becker, Sublette; two brothers, Jacob and Tony Becker, rural route, Amboy; a sister, Elizabeth, Mendota, and several grandchildren.

She was born March 24, 1890, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Becker.

Thirty-one species and one subspecies of birds were counted on one winter day in Shenandoah National Park, Virginia.

Senators from Nebraska Mark Birthday Today

WASHINGTON—(AP)—What would be the odds against a state electing two senators with the same birthday?

Whatever the odds, Nebraska did it.

Senators Hugh Butler and Kenneth S. Wherry, both Republicans, celebrated together today.

It'll be No. 59 for Wherry, the senate's minority leader. Butler is older, but he didn't say how much.

in the country—a government by the underworld.

"Serious Menace"

"This secret government of criminals is a serious menace which could, if not curbed, become the basis for a subversive movement which could wreck the very foundations of this country," the report added.

The five-member committee, headed by Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) said it has no doubts about the existence of "at least two major crime syndicates."

One of these, it said has its axis between Miami, Fla., and the Chicago Capone syndicate "now headed by Tony Accardo, the Fischetti Brothers and Jake Guzik."

"There is another," the committee continued, "with an axis between New York and Miami headed by Frank Costello and Joe Adonis."

Adonis Is Big Time

Adonis is a big-time gambler with headquarters in the New York-New Jersey area. Costello is described in the report as "the outstanding underworld leader in the New York City area."

The committee said these two syndicates have "branch lines" extending into many cities and areas. There is an apparent understanding among the operators of these mobs not to infringe on each other's activities, it said.

The committee told the senate "the most shocking revelation" of the testimony it has received to date "is the extent of official corruption and connivance in facilitating and promoting organized crime."

Evidence of this, the committee said, has been found "at all levels of government—federal, state and local."

Governors Got Help

It also said there was no doubt that Governors Fuller Warren of Florida and Forrest Smith of Missouri were aided in their election campaigns by contributions from "known gamblers."

In Missouri, the senate committee said, "one can perceive a more than passing connection between Gov. Smith's appointment of two members to the Kansas City police board who favored a 'wide-open town' and Binaggio's support during the election."

Charles Binaggio was a Democratic political leader in Kansas City who was slain last April 5, along with one of his top henchmen, Charles Gargotta.

The crime committee said "Binaggio, who had important gambling interests to further, went so far before his slaying as to offer former Atty. Gen. McKittrick a bribe to withdraw from the gubernatorial race."

No Comment

At Jefferson City, Mo., Gov. Smith said he had "nothing at all" to say. He said he might have some comment after reading the whole report.

A large part of the committee's 15,000-word report was devoted to gambling, which it said has become the "principal source" of income for organized criminals since the end of prohibition.

"The 'take' from such forms of gambling as bookmaking, policy or numbers, slot machines, punchboards and gambling casinos is fantastic in amount," the committee said.

Streator Man Shot, Killed in Wife's Home

STREATOR, Ill.—(AP)—Clarence Ingalsbee, 41, a carpenter, was shot and killed last night in the home of his estranged wife, Bae, a beauty operator.

Chief of Police John Gaydos said the shooting occurred during a quarrel between the couple. Ingalsbee was shot in the abdomen with a .32 caliber pistol.

Mrs. Ingalsbee became hysterical after the shooting, Gaydos said, and was placed under the care of a physician. The police chief said he plans to question her later.

The couple had been separated 18 months. They have two small children.

in the country—a government by the underworld.

"Serious Menace"

"This secret government of criminals is a serious menace which could, if not curbed, become the basis for a subversive movement which could wreck the very foundations of this country," the report added.

The five-member committee, headed by Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) said it has no doubts about the existence of "at least two major crime syndicates."

One of these, it said has its axis between Miami, Fla., and the Chicago Capone syndicate "now headed by Tony Accardo, the Fischetti Brothers and Jake Guzik."

"There is another," the committee continued, "with an axis between New York and Miami headed by Frank Costello and Joe Adonis."

Would Allow Counties to Create Office

New Legislation Will Circumvent Court Objections

SPRINGFIELD—(AP)—A home rule version of the invalidated county assessment supervisor act is being drawn for presentation to the Illinois general assembly.

Senator Fred Hart (R-Streator) said today the proposed legislation will attempt to meet constitutional objections the state supreme court raised in knocking out the 1949 law.

Hart and several other senators will sponsor the new bill with the backing of the Illinois Association of Supervisors and County Commissioners. The association fought the old act.

The Hart version would permit counties under township organization to create the office of supervisor of assessments. It would give the new official a big voice in fixing property assessments, which are the basis for tax bills.

On Equal Basis

Like the 1949 measure, the new legislation would be designed to put property assessments on an equal basis within a county.

Selection would be by a majority of county supervisors, who would fix the supervisor's salary

Boy Slayer of Parents Loved And Hated Them

OAKLAND, CALIF. (AP)—A psychiatrist says Donald (Rocky) Arceo, 14-year-old confessed slayer of his parents, was obsessed with simultaneous love and hate for them.

Donald told police he shot his father because "he was too stern" and his mother because he "feared the consequences."

He was charged with two counts of murder, the maximum penalty is life imprisonment for a minor in California.

Psychiatrist William M. McGaughey, who interviewed the boy yesterday, said Donald evidenced no trace of insanity.

Rather, he said, the boy experienced ambivalent feelings—intense love for both parents coupled with hatred for the father and jealousy toward the mother.

Newsman to Check Story Of Brutality

ANGOLA, La. (AP)—A committee made up mostly of newspaper and radio men will look into conditions at the state prison here where 37 prisoners have cut their heel tendons to protest brutalities they said existed.

Gov. Earl K. Long named the 27-member committee after six prisoners crippled themselves yesterday.

Dr. I. F. Littell, prison physician, said the six told him the same story the 31 earlier cases gave to reporters—that they were "fed up with brutality and beatings."

Gov. Long and prison officials have denied that any brutality existed.

Cutting the tendon of the heel temporarily cripples by causing loss of foot extension and flexibility.

Warden Rudolph Easterly claimed the heel-cutting was designed to wreck discipline and to force his removal as warden.

Many Nurses Request HADACOL

HADACOL Helps Folks Suffering Deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron

Registered nurses, in increasing numbers, are showing a keen interest in HADACOL and in the results that are being secured with this great modern formula. Requests have been received from many of these nurses for professional samples of HADACOL and many of them indicated that they recommended the HADACOL formula to their patient. For example, Mrs. Kathleen C. Marquess, a registered nurse, who lives at 519 West 2nd St., Hopkinsville, Ky., says this about HADACOL:

"Your HADACOL has already improved my appetite, and I am sure I'll regain my fifteen pounds soon. Those patients to whom I passed on your professional samples are all continuing to take HADACOL and most of them are now trying it in the family size bottle. All have been helped. Some are much, much better from an emotional standpoint. I saw one yesterday sitting on the porch of the next-door neighbor, chatting and smiling. She had only been able to walk around in the house. Just imagine that—after only three bottles of HADACOL!"

Mrs. Marquess and her patients, whom HADACOL has helped, were suffering deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron, which HADACOL Contains.—Adv.

Mayoral Incumbents in Ottawa, Joliet Defeated in Primaries

By The Associated Press
Incumbent mayors of Elgin and Ottawa were defeated for renomination in downstate city primaries yesterday.

Mayor Walter E. Miller of Elgin failed in his campaign for a third term. He lost to Myron Lehman, a former mayor, and Harry P. Kelley, who will be opponents in the April 17 election. Lehman had 4,664 votes, Kelley, 4,318, and Miller, 2,510. All are Republicans.

Mayor T. Burton Leamy, completing his first four-year term at Ottawa, was beaten by Phil Bailey, a war veteran and former deputy sheriff, and city commissioner John Blankinship. Bailey had 3,258 votes; Blankinship, 1,869, and Leamy, 1,149.

Dead Man Gets 93

A dead man received 93 votes in the Ottawa mayoral primary. He was Dr. John H. Edgcomb, who was killed in a traffic accident, Feb. 12. He had been a candidate and there was not sufficient time to remove his name from the ballot.

A record primary vote of 7,080 was cast at Kewanee. Successful nominees were Edwin F. Peterson, the incumbent, with 1,825 votes, and Ernest E. Stull, retired glove factory employee and formal national guardsman, with 2,016.

Defeated at Kewanee were Francis A. Dean, a city commissioner, 1,523 votes; Campbell Andrews, an attorney and son of former Mayor H. Andrews, 1,058, and Oscar Ramsey, a boilermaker, 614.

Dr. Robert E. Willis, an optometrist, and Earl V. Smith, a railroad electrician and former city commissioner, were nominated over six other candidates at Decatur. Dr. Willis had 6,446 votes and Smith, 4,543. Mayor James Hedrick, ending his second four-year term, was not a candidate.

In a special election, Rockford voters rejected a proposal to increase the city corporate tax rate 10 cents. The vote was 6,847 to 4,280. The present rate is 16.4 cents per $100 valuation. Twenty-five per cent of the city's registered voters cast ballots—a record for a special election.

Rock Island was among other cities holding primaries, but only aldermen and a police magistrate were involved.

All the primaries were non-partisan. The election will be April 17.

... my Monarch has 2 OVENS!

The Monarch Electric Roaster Range has TWO ovens — assures you of plenty of oven space for entertaining when you need two different baking temperatures at the same time. The surface oven is perfect for vegetable dinners, baked beans, spareribs, soups — saves electricity, saves stooping. Both ovens are timer-clock controlled.

Anti-Bolshevist Tito Receives Kind Smile from Democracies

By DEWITT MacKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

As the satellite revolt against Moscow's domination grows under the banner of "Titoism," one notes a tendency among the democracies to smile on Generalissimo Tito as the father of this nationalist upheaval.

That tendency is natural, on the basis that we don't like Titoism the more but that we like Bolshevism the less.

Still, while the democracies welcome Tito's aid in the conflict against a common foe, we shall be well advised not to jump to the conclusion that he is leaning towards them ideologically.

True, the Yugoslav chief-of-state is a dissenter against the Bolshevik tenet that world domination rests in Moscow. He is a nationalist and so refuses to surrender the sovereignty of his nation to Russia. That's why the Cominform has expelled him and branded him as an outcast.

But don't forget that Tito remains a Communist (though not a Bolshevik) and he maintains a dictatorship—a tight one. Ideologically there is nothing in common between Titoism and democracy.

There remains one saving grace in the situation. While there is no possible chance of Bolshevism and democracy living side by side in amity, there is no apparent reason why Titoism and democracy shouldn't get along. This is true because the cardinal tenet of Bolshevism is world domination by Moscow, whereas the Tito brand of Communism, while a dictatorship, doesn't profess to aim at global rule.

It remains to be seen whether a dynamic figure like Tito might get grandiose ideas as Titoism spreads. Still at this reading one would envisage him as perhaps being the leader (though not dictator) of any Titoistic states which might develop. That would conform to his code of nationalism, and any deviation would tend to-

Foxes May Be Bothersome But Hunts Become Social Activity

SPRINGFIELD, (AP)—Illinois hunters and farmers give the red fox a hard time in any year but they never seem able to wipe him out.

Joe B. Davidson, state game management head, says Br'er Fox has fewer brothers than usual this year but he doubts that shotguns are responsible.

Davidson thinks disease knocked the fox population down but that it will recover and multiply again.

Some farmers and sportsmen hope not. Others don't object.

Generally, though, the sentiment is against the fox. Farmers accuse him of livestock and poultry raiding. Sportsmen often call him a quail and pheasant killer.

Hatred of the fox built up the bounty system which helped along that social and fund-raising institution: The fox drive.

Adams county paid 1,500 bounties last year at $2 apiece. In the last six years the county ladled out $11,636 on 6,262 foxes shot, trapped or suffocated.

But another group of hunters (some of whom may still hate the animal) argue that the fox is bearable because he's the nearest thing to "big game" Illinois has left.

Many Methods

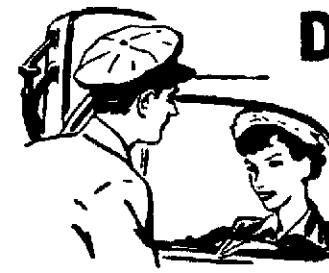

Some stalk him alone or with a dog. Some chase him with horses and hounds. Some even shoot him from airplanes.

Aerial hunting of foxes has become rather ordinary, at least in west central Illinois. Joseph J. Higgins of Colmar and Ivan Do-wacker of Plymouth bagged 68 foxes and $112 in bounties this winter. They shot from the air most of the time.

Four McDonough county farmers—Henry Smith, Harold Reed, Estel McKee and Tommy Harmon—also knocked off 54, mostly from a plane.

They fire a 12-gauge shotgun 50 yards from the fox at the end of an 80-miles an hour dive, usually over bean stubble. Harmon says that 50 yards is about as close as he can get to make a flying shot at the fleeing fox.

The U. S. Bureau of Land Management says an acre of forest can be planted with a helicopter at a cost of $4 for seedlings, rodent control and flying time compared to $20 for hand-planting.
